Part II Reading Comprehension (40 points)

Directions: There are four passages in this section. Each passage is followed by five questions or unfinished statements. For each of them there are four choices marked A, B, C and D. You should decide on the best choice and write the corresponding letter on the Answer Sheet.

Passage 1

To write a great news story, you have to make sure it is correct, relevant (相关的) and fresh..

For a start, all the information in a story must be correct. (56) Not only the spelling and grammar, but also the facts.

Any mistakes that appear (出现) in a story can get a newspaper into big trouble.

For example, if a newspaper said that Yang Liwei was the first man to go into space, it would be wrong. He wasn't the first. The newspaper would probably lose lots of readers because of that mistake.

A news story is not only correct, but also relevant to its readers. People are mostly interested in news that happens near to them. (57) That is why you care more about what happens at your school that at American schools. It is also why newspapers in Beijing don't talk about much news in Shanghai or Hong Kong.

Finally, news must always be fresh. When you pick up your evening newspaper, you want to read about news that happens that day. You don't want to read about news from last week! So, now you know what makes a good news story. Have a good look at our newspaper and see if it is full of good news.you can try writing a news story for our newspaper like a real reporter.

21. The writer mentions _____ main factors (因素) to make a news story really great.

A. two B. three C. four D. five

22. According to the second paragraph, the correct information in a story includes _____.

- A. translation and facts

Passage 3

At East China University of Science and Technology, students will get a coupon (优惠券) if they eat up their food.Students can collect coupons and exchange them for small gifts, such as books, magazines, mobile phone covers and hand warmers.

"It's been such a surprise," said Liang Zhaoyun, 19, a student at the university in Shanghai. "It has given us one more motivation to finish our food."

The measure is part of a national "eat-up"" campaign (行动) which is organized by students to deal with food waste on campuses (校园).

Why only on campuses, you might ask? Because according to a report by Xinhna News Agency, students waste twice as much food as the national average (平均).

(59) The campaign on campus food waste is receiving attention across the country.

"The aim of the campaign is not only to encourage students to finish their food. We hope it can also encourage students to choose a more environment-friendly and healthy lifestyle," said Tao Siliang, secretary of the Youth League Committee at Shanghai University.

But some school food is poorly prepared, so students do not like to finish it all. Some schools have taken notice of this and they are taking measures to improve it.

"I'm glad that we've reduced food waste since the 'eat-up' campaign began. But if we call on students to waste less food, we should also improve the service and food standard on campuses." said Tao.
